

RESPONSE TO COVID-19

Thermal Hazard Technology (THT) is continually monitoring the ever-changing situation in response to the spread COVID-19 and the impact on our employees, customers, suppliers and business as a whole.

In line with local government advice in territories in which we operate, office-based staff are working from home where possible. For our production and lab-based teams, actions are being taken to reduce risks of exposure in the workplace. Steps include increased cleaning, regular disinfecting of surfaces and entry points along with provision of additional hand sanitiser.

All staff will strictly observe the stay at home guidance should they or their family members display COVID-19 symptoms. Business travel and non-essential on and off-site meeting have been postponed until further notice. Customer support for all our products and services will continue to be offered over email, phone and WebEx.

We are confident these measures not only protect everyone's health, but ensure minimal disruption to our operations. Thank you for your continued support.

The THT Team